

Name _____

Teacher/Period _____

Treasure-Hunting Vocabulary from Smells Like Dog

Instructions: Match the highlighted words to their correct definitions.

The greatest herpetologist who ever lived. _____

Behind the man, a shotgun and rucksack leaned against a field tent. _____

Books smell like paper, mildew, dust and human endeavors. _____

They had no laces or ankle support or leech protection. _____

Maybe it was his night vision goggles or his echo-locating gyroscope. _____

He pulled out his Galileo Compass. _____

He pulled out his Galileo Compass. _____

She was quite at ease trekking through a jungle of poisonous snakes. _____

When he found King Tut's bathing suit, he became famous. _____

The map contained a color-coded legend. _____

The lair had been built below the museum. _____

The man was dressed in safari gear. _____

1. An Egyptian pharaoh
2. A knapsack
3. An instrument for showing direction
4. A blood-sucking worm
5. A secret hideaway
6. An African expedition
7. A person who studies reptiles and amphibians
8. An instrument with a rotating wheel
9. Things that someone has tried to do
10. An Italian astronomer
11. An explanation of symbols on a map
12. Traveling or journeying